Any costs or fees associated with Precious Puppies Puppy Kennel veterinarian examination or treatment shall be the sole responsibility of Precious Puppies Puppy Kennel. Precious Puppies Puppy Kennel does not assume responsibility for any expenses incurred by the buyer such as transportation costs or any associated veterinarian expenses related to such occurrences.

It should be noted that puppies sometimes have diarrhea or reduced appetites when transitioning to a new environment or travel due to several different reasons. The buyer must monitor the puppy to ensure that it is eating well and drinking plenty of water so that it does not become dehydrated or malnourished. It is also quite common for puppies to have intestinal worms and/or parasites such as coccidia or giardia even after initial treatments are given at early stages. It is imperative that the buyer have their puppy vet checked and continue to follow recommended schedules for vaccinations and/or treatments due to potential harm that may occur if left untreated. Puppies also may have sudden drops in blood-sugar levels which may result in lethargic behavior and even convulsions or seizures which may have a very rapid onset of symptoms. During a minimum of the 10 days following transfer of the puppy and for as long as necessary, the new owner should monitor the puppy continuously and provide regular meals and sugar intake such as small amounts of syrup or natural sugars to ensure that proper nutrition and blood-sugar levels are maintained. If an event as described above should occur, immediately rub syrup or a nutritional calorie supplement on the puppy's gums and into its mouth. Note: Products containing chocolate or caffeine should NOT be given to dogs. It is the buyer's responsibility to monitor the puppy at all times to guard against such events or other accidental injuries, and Precious Puppies Puppy Kennel does not assume responsibility for injury or death to the puppy should such events beyond our control occur after the puppy is transferred to the buyer. Should such events occur, veterinarian consultation and/or treatment is left to the discretion and financial responsibility of the buyer. Precious puppies will not take responsibility for veterinarian bills or issue a purchase refund in the event of sickness, injury, or death of the puppy due to circumstances which are beyond our control once the puppy has left our care. Thank you.*
